- 1) When you open the book, you will find either a statement or a picture.
- 2a) If you find a statement, turn the page and draw a picture to illustrate that statement.
- 2b) If you find a picture, turn the page and write a statement or phrase that explains that picture.
- 3) Then remove the binder clip, take the blocker, move it between the last page and yours and clip them again.
- 4) Return to the Heat Wave Sweet Rave Telestrations spot.

It's so hot outside, you could
fry an egg.

Stooping out front, Confidence oozing out of him like flames from a sun. The world is his, but he doesn't care. And then the day goes on.

⑨ We all come into this world
with two eyes two ears and a world to judge. It is up to us to see if this is a world worth saving.
Keep in mind the infinite and our own puny ego. Should life
be carried on or should it stop
what it has become!
